Get insights to build stronger relationships with colleagues in this playful session

An interactive session with Rod Ben Zeev

Rod Ben Zeev is a facilitator and designer of innovation and leadership programs at the THINK School of Creative Leadership. He is the founder of the Tel Aviv Improv School.

About the session:

Connection is an interactive Zoom session focusing on the different frequency we need to get to in order to have engaging and productive work sessions online.

How can we utilize the new technology while maintaining the same feeling we had when we could be present in the same space?
